I have come across various amounts of journals that I have considered publishing “How has the Pahlavi Dynasty and the Iranian Revolution created the veil to cause conceptual division between Iranian women and liberty distortion in Iranian society?”. The one I am absolutely interested is yours, Inquiries Journal. It provides a grand variety of categories to choose from, Gender, Politics, Religion, so much more.

My article “How has the Pahlavi Dynasty and the Iranian Revolution created the veil to cause conceptual division between Iranian women and liberty distortion in Iranian society?” establishes the reason why the veil has impacted the political and social system in Iran. Is the veil necessary for every Muslim woman to wear? Why is authority forces woman to be segregated by being stuck with the veil for women who do not wish to wear it? All this my article covers.

I believe that “How has the Pahlavi Dynasty and the Iranian Revolution created the veil to cause conceptual division between Iranian women and liberty distortion in Iranian society?” about a mixture of gender, politics, and religion would be a great placement for Inquiries Journal. It would provide readers news about the life’s of the people in Iran, that there’s other events taking place not just “terrorism”.
